Generating Patient Flow Using Our Online Network

Generating Patient Flow Using Our Online Network

Given MD's position in the medical marijuana marketplace, we have the ability to monopolize the patient flow generated by the physicians operating within our online network.

When a patient books through MarijuanaDoctors.com online calendaring and appointment scheduling services, they are also able to schedule a telemedicine visit for a first-time consultation with dispensaries and producers, with the objective of finalizing their order and scheduling a time for either pick-up or delivery.

This step follows once a patient has received a medical marijuana recommendation from a physician seen either in-person or via MD's telehealth portal.

MarijuanaDoctors.com Virtual Dispensary Listing

Because of MD's infrastructure, producers are now in a position to create locally indexed SEO that will generate a patient funnel directly to them.

Because of MD's infrastructure, producers are now in a position to create locally indexed SEO that will generate a patient funnel directly to them. Each producer page hosted by MD features dedicated content detailing the relevant information about the dispensary, such as:

- Dispensary details
- Hours of operation
- Cannabis menu
- Patient reviews
- Request appointment button
- Digital phone numbers

Joint functionality enables the dispensary's pharmacist to schedule appointments with patients and automate the delivery process thereby methodically streamlining the entire process, from patient to payment. Dispensaries also have access to the telehealth portal by which they may consult with patients online, instead of in-person.

Becoming a Featured Advertiser

Dispensaries may also choose to become featured advertisers, opting for advanced placement in the state and city static listings, which always come up first in the search results.

By paying for a featured listing, a producer ensures their listing will populate at the top of all the relevant search results. A system like this gives licensed medical marijuana providers the benefit of vertically integrating into the market, by directly targeting and marketing to patients and physicians in the relevant regions — a key element to building a profitable medical marijuana company that will continue to grow.

Online Outreach for Medical Marijuana Dispensaries

With the aid of developers and content creators, MarijuanaDoctors.com can create a scalable online solution to operate initially as a go-to-market strategy. Soon after, a permanent approach is designed to generate a digital footprint and ensure ample organic traffic from local web searches. This results in new customers for your dispensary without a need for paid performance on online search platforms.

Some marketing strategies we utilize include:

- Dispensary Virtual Listing: Your dispensary's virtual listing on MarijuanaDoctors.com acts as your personal landing page on our site. It allows you to market your services and maintain steady patient flow. Thousands of potential patients search our site for information about medical marijuana and having a virtual listing helps you connect with them.
- Market Share for Your Specific Region: With the implement of a zip code system, MD allows producers to lock down regions for each patient in their geo-target territory, in cities across each of the states. This will enable dispensaries to gain market share for a specific area. From the producer dashboard on the backend of MarijuanaDoctors.com, you can track the success of your campaign exactly like Google AdWords. Except now your pay-per-zip is pay-per-patient, with a true conversion at the point a delivery or in-store pickup is scheduled during a telehealth consult.

MD allows producers to lock down regions for each patient in their geo-target territory, in cities across each of the states.

- Email Campaigns: Email campaigns can be effectively crafted to notify our pre-existing marketplace, i.e. the patients, that a particular dispensary and its products are now available. This will not only inform patients that your business is a viable option, but it will also highlight your dispensary as being the quickest, easiest and safest solution for purchasing medical marijuana.

These are strategies we believe will allow us to optimally monetize each patient that funnels through MD. But we are certainly open to any other ideas you may have regarding a collaboration or partnership, and would most definitely like to hear any thoughts or feedback you may have.

This section aids in protecting physicians from medical steering, pharmaceutical pushing or the violation of HIPAA laws.

Patients can look on the producer's section of MarijuanaDoctors.com, in order to find the nearest dispensaries.

Doctors now have the ability to tell their patients to look on the producer's section of MarijuanaDoctors.com, in order to find the nearest dispensaries carrying the formulation of medical marijuana that they require. Similarly, states have warned producers against steering patients to any specific physicians, encouraging dispensaries to refer patients seeking compassionate care to MarijuanaDoctors.com, to find a physician nearest to them.

- Physicians can now make educated decisions that will benefit all of their patients with similar conditions
- Patients will be able to find the best products that most effectively treat their specific issues.

Making an Appointment to Visit a Dispensary

Once a patient has received a medical marijuana recommendation and the physician has registered the patient on the state's department of health website, patients can now request an appointment with a dispensary at MarijuanaDoctors.com to visit the brick-and-mortar location in-person.

Patients can now request an appointment with a dispensary at MarijuanaDoctors.com to visit the brick-and-mortar location in-person.

Patients can also choose to schedule a telemedicine appointment for a first-time consultation with the dispensary, from a convenient location of their choosing.

A dispensary consultation gives patients the opportunity to:

- Consult with a dispensary attendant
- View the products
- Discuss the menu options available

The producer's menu is seamlessly integrated with the required fields and soap notes that the physician needs to complete the patient's registration process.

After the consultation, the dispensary can send the physician the recommended formulations and information to be uploaded to the patient's profile on the state's DOH website. For this purpose, the producer's menu is seamlessly integrated with the required fields and soap notes that the physician needs to complete the patient's registration process.

Once the doctor finishes updating the patient's data, both the patient and producer will receive an automated email, confirming the date and time of delivery or in-store pick-up.

Utilizing Telehealth Technology

For many patients suffering from debilitating, chronic or terminal conditions, the symptoms of their ailments often make travel difficult and for those who are nearing end-of-life, near to impossible. Recognizing this dilemma that many of our patients face, MarijuanaDoctors.com has sought to give these individuals the ability to consult directly with a pharmacist at a dispensary, using telehealth technology.

During the telemedicine consultation, patients will have the opportunity to:

- View the dispensary's menu
- Ask questions
- Discuss the different options available to them
- Choose the product that best meets their requirements

After the online consultation, dispensaries use their MarijuanaDoctors.com portal to send the patient's recommending physician all the required information.

After the online consultation, dispensaries use their MarijuanaDoctors.com portal to send the patient's recommending physician all the required formulations for the doctor to then update the patient's data on the state department of health website so that it reflects all of the necessary information. At this time physicians may also stipulate how long the recommendation is to be valid.

For this purpose, the producer's section has been created with all the necessary fields and soap notes, giving pharmacists the capacity to provide physicians with the appropriate information. Once the doctor has updated the DOH system, an email is automatically sent to both the patient and producer, with details on how to schedule a time for an in-store pickup.

We've also built in protections for producers serving patients represented by caregivers. Patients and caregivers are required to upload their medical marijuana card, paper work, and driver's license to provide insurance for producers who are engaging with patients.

Once the patient has received counsel and placed their order, a date and time can be scheduled for at-home delivery. This means that patients who have limited-mobility and who otherwise would not have been able to get their cannabis medications can now access medical marijuana from the convenience of their home.

Furthermore, with the added functionality of being able to make deliveries, dispensaries are now viable options for patients who otherwise would not have chosen the producer due to the inconvenience or travel time of the location.
