A NEW KIND OF HEALTHCARE
www.marijuanadoctors.com

MarijuanaDoctors.com is the largest online network of medical marijuana patients and physicians nationwide, and is now expanding its directory listings to include dispensaries, as well.

The producer's section was created with the purpose of helping patients locate and purchase their medicine from an authorized producer, dispensary, clinic or retailer, protecting physicians from medical steering, pharmaceutical pushing or the violation of HIPAA laws. Doctors now have the ability to tell their patients to do to MarijuanaDoctors.com, in order to find the nearest dispensaries carrying the formulation of medical marijuana that they require. Similarly, states have warned producers against steering patients to any specific physicians.

Over the past 9+ years, MarijuanaDoctors.com has aggregated more than 430,000+ users and 8000+ pages of unique content that are optimized for 13,000+ of the most-searched terms related to medical marijuana

By incorporating medical marijuana dispensaries into MD's workflow, patients can now rely on MD to safely guide them from physician to pharmacist, by allowing patients to easily locate, shop, and review the local caregiver options available to them. By listing your dispensary on MarijuanaDoctors.com, your subscription will unlock MD's full functionality and API, accelerating and streamlining your patients/clients experience.

Calendaring and Telemedicine For Pharmacists and Budtenders

Registered dispensaries will have full access to functionality that includes:

Calendaring appointments streamlines the process of seeing first-time patients, allowing you to give the patient your undivided personal attention while answering all of their questions and tending to their medicative needs. In states where telemedicine laws are applicable, physicianâ€™s and now pharmacistâ€™s, too, can conduct their appointments via MDâ€™s HIPAA compliant telemedicine channel.

Online Ordering

MD's functionality and workflow mandates that patients first upload their medical marijuana card, driver's license and any other medical marijuana-related paperwork, before any orders can be placed. This built-in safety measure insures that medicine is delivered to the registered patient and does not accidentally end up in the wrong hands.

MarijuanaDoctors.com was created with the top domain for keyword searches related to "medical marijuana card" and "marijuana doctor", that means that when patients search for information about obtaining a medical marijuana card in their state, our site comes up. These same patients are then connected with our partnering dispensaries. Additional marketing opportunities for dispensaries also include, but not limited to:

- Featured Placement (Static Listing)

Static listings are distinctly highlighted and populate at the top of dispensary city and state search results.

- Localized Digital Phone Numbers

The use of a local digital phone number on a listing increases profile interaction and captures patients that aren't internet savvy or require immediate assistance.

- GeoTargeted Email Blasts

Dispensaries can opt to send email blasts to it's patients, introducing discounts, deals, new and featured products, and patient awareness outreach programs. Dispensaries can also opt to co-brand emails between doctors and patients in MD's network.

The screenshot displays the MarijuanaDoctors.com interface for searching dispensaries in New York City. At the top, a dropdown menu allows users to select a city to narrow their search. Below this, three featured dispensary listings are shown, each with a dark green header bar containing the dispensary name and a star rating with the number of reviews.
